CIVIL ACTION

MDL NO. 2047

SECTION L (5)

THIS DOCUMENT RELATES TO: ALL AMORIN CASES

ORDER & REASONS

Before the Court is the CNBM and BNBM Defendants' motion to adopt their Louisiana Amorin Trial Plan, R. Doc. 21501; Defendant Taishan's motion to adopt its Louisiana Amorin Trial Plan, R. Doc. 21503; and the Plaintiffs' Steering Committee's omnibus opposition, wherein it moves the Court to adopt its plan, R. Doc. 21545. Considering the parties' pleadings and having held oral argument at the Court's monthly status conference, R. Doc. 21676, the Court now issues its trial plan for the Louisiana Amorin cases.

I. BACKGROUND

From 2004 through 2006, a housing boom in parts of the United States and rebuilding efforts necessitated by Hurricanes Rita and Katrina in the Gulf South led to a shortage of construction materials, including drywall. As a result, drywall manufactured in China was brought into the United States and used to construct and refurbish homes in coastal areas of the country, notably the Gulf and East Coasts. Sometime after the Chinese drywall was installed, homeowners began to complain of foul-smelling odors, the corrosion and blackening of metal wiring, surfaces, and objects, and the breaking down of appliances and electrical devices in their homes. See In re Chinese-Manufactured Drywall Prods. Liab. Litig., 894 F. Supp. 2d 819, 829–30 (E.D. La. 2012), aff'd, 742 F.3d 576 (5th Cir. 2014). Many of these homeowners also began to complain of various physical afflictions believed to have been caused by the Chinese drywall.

These homeowners then began to file suit in various state and federal courts against homebuilders, developers, installers, realtors, brokers, suppliers, importers, exporters, distributors, and manufacturers who were involved with the Chinese drywall. Because of the commonality of facts in the various cases, this litigation was designated as a multidistrict litigation. Pursuant to a Transfer Order from the United States Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation on June 15, 2009, all federal cases involving Chinese drywall were consolidated for pretrial proceedings in MDL 09-2047 before this Court.

The Chinese drywall at issue was largely manufactured by two groups of defendants: (1) the Knauf Entities and (2) the Taishan Entities. The litigation has focused on these two entities and their downstream associates and has proceeded on strikingly different tracks for the claims against each group.¹ Relevant to this Order are the Chinese Defendants. These Defendants include the principal Chinese-based Defendant, Taishan, namely, Taishan Gypsum Co. Ltd. (“TG”) and its wholly-owned subsidiary, Taian Taishan Plasterboard Co., Ltd. (“TTP”) (collectively “Taishan” or “Taishan Entities”). Other Chinese-based Defendants include China New Building Materials Group (“CNBM Group”), China New Building Materials Co. (“CNBM”), CNBMIT Co. Ltd. (“CNBMIT”), CNBM USA Corp. (“CNBM USA”), and United Suntech Craft, Inc. (“United Suntech”) (collectively the “CNBM Entities”), as well as the Beijing New Building Materials Public Limited Company (“BNBM”) and Beijing New Building Material Group (“BNBMG”) (collectively the “BNBM Entities”).

The Court’s initial inquiry regarding Taishan involved four cases in this MDL: (1) Germano v. Taishan Gypsum Co. (Case No. 09-6687); (2) The Mitchell Co. v. Knauf Gips KG (Case No. 09-4115); (3) Gross v. Knauf Gips KG (Case No. 09-6690); and (4) Wiltz v. Beijing New Building Materials Public Ltd. (Case No. 10-361).

The first issues involving Taishan arose when Taishan failed to timely answer or otherwise enter an appearance in Mitchell and Germano, despite the fact that it had been properly served in each case. Thus, after an extended period of time, the Court entered preliminary defaults against Taishan in both cases. Thereafter, the Court moved forward with an evidentiary hearing in furtherance of the preliminary default in Germano on Plaintiffs’ claimed damages. At the hearing, the PSC presented evidence specific to seven individual properties, which served as bellwether cases. Thereafter, on February 19 and 20, 2010, the Court issued detailed Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law. On May 11, 2010, the Court issued a Default Judgment against Taishan in Germano and in favor of Plaintiffs.

On June 10, 2010, the last day to timely appeal the Default Judgment against them, Taishan filed a Notice of Appeal in Germano and entered its appearance in Germano and Mitchell. After Taishan entered its appearance in the MDL, it quickly sought to have the Default Judgment in Germano and the Preliminary Default in Mitchell vacated for lack of personal jurisdiction. Because this was the first time Defendants raised jurisdictional issues, the Fifth Circuit remanded the case to this Court to determine whether this Court indeed has jurisdiction over Taishan.

In the fall of 2010, the Court directed the parties to commence the personal jurisdiction discovery necessary to resolve Taishan's motions to vacate. Sometime after the initial discovery, the parties agreed to expand the discovery beyond the Germano and Mitchell cases to other cases in which Taishan had been served, including Gross and Wiltz.

Formal personal jurisdiction discovery of Taishan began in October 2010. Discovery included the production of both written and electronic documents as well as depositions of Taishan's corporate representatives, with each type of discovery proceeding in a parallel fashion. This discovery was highly contentious, requiring close supervision by the Court. The Court presided over regularly-scheduled status conferences, conducted hearings, and issued rulings to resolve numerous discovery-related disputes.

In June 2011, the PSC filed identical complaints in Federal district courts in Florida, Virginia, and Louisiana (the "Amorin complaints"). The Amorin complaints include all Plaintiffs named in the Wiltz, Gross, Abel, and Haya actions. The Florida and Virginia actions were transferred by the JPML to the MDL; the PSC filed the Louisiana omnibus complaint directly into the MDL. It is undisputed that the allegations and Plaintiffs named in the Amoin complaints are identical. According to the PSC, these identical complaints were filed "out of an abundance of caution," because "there existed a colorable question regarding the application of the jurisdictional tests known as the 'stream-of-commerce' test and the 'stream-of-commerce-plus' test reflected in the plurality opinions in McIntyre and Asahi, as well as Justice Brennan's concurring opinion in Asahi."

In April 2012, Taishan filed various motions, including motions to dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction. On June 29, 2012, over three years since the creation of this MDL and after a year-and-a-half of personal jurisdiction discovery on Taishan, the Court presided over a hearing on Taishan's motions. The Court coordinated its hearing with the Honorable Joseph Farina of the Florida state court, who had a similar motion involving Taishan's challenge to personal jurisdiction.

On September 4, 2012, this Court issued a 142-page Order regarding Taishan's motions in Germano, Mitchell, Gross, and Wiltz, in which the Court denied the motions to dismiss and held that it maintained personal jurisdiction over Taishan. In re Chinese-Manufactured Drywall Prods. Liab. Litig., 894 F. Supp. 2d 819 (E.D. La. 2012). The Court also ruled that Taishan was operating as the alter ego of TG and TTP. The Court certified an interlocutory appeal, and the Fifth Circuit granted permission to appeal. In January and May of 2014, two different panels of the Fifth Circuit affirmed this Court's ruling and held that this Court maintained personal jurisdiction over Taishan, TG, and TTP. In re Chinese-Manufactured Drywall Prods. Liab. Litig., 753 F.3d 521 (5th Cir. 2014); In re Chinese-Manufactured Drywall Prods. Liab. Litig., 742 F.3d 576 (5th Cir. 2014). The time for writ of certiorari passed, and the issue of personal jurisdiction over Taishan became firmly and finally settled. Nevertheless, Taishan refused to voluntarily participate in this suit.

On June 20, 2014, the Court ordered Taishan to appear in open court on July 17, 2014 to be examined as a judgment debtor. Taishan failed to appear for the July 17, 2014 Judgment Debtor Examination, and the Court held Taishan in contempt, ordering that Taishan pay $15,000.00 in attorneys' fees to Plaintiffs' counsel and $40,000.00 as a penalty for contempt; Taishan and any of its affiliates or subsidiaries be enjoined from conducting any business in the United States until or unless it participates in this judicial process; and if Taishan violates the injunction, it must pay a further penalty of twenty-five percent of the profits earned by the Company or its affiliate who violate the Order for the year of the violation.

On July 23, 2014, the PSC filed their Omnibus Motion for Class Certification pursuant to Rule 23(b)(3). Taishan did not appear and, on September 26, 2014, this Court certified a class of all owners of real properties in the United States, who are named Plaintiffs on the complaints in Amorin, Germano, Gross, and/or Wiltz (i.e., not an absent class member), asserting claims for remediated damages arising from, or otherwise related to Chinese Drywall manufactured, sold, distributed, supplied, marketed, inspected, imported or delivered by Taishan. R. Doc. 18028.

Taishan finally entered an appearance with the Court in February 2015, and, to satisfy the contempt, Taishan paid both the sum of $15,000.00 in attorneys' fees to Plaintiffs' counsel and the contempt penalty of $40,000.00 in March 2015. On March 17, 2015, the Court ordered Taishan and the BNBK and CNBK Entities to participate in expedited discovery related to "the relationship between Taishan and BNBK/CNBK, including whether affiliate and/or alter ego status exists."

On March 10, 2016, this Court granted CNBK Group's motion to dismiss, finding it was an "agent or instrumentality of a foreign state" within the meaning of the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act ("FSIA"), and therefore outside the jurisdiction of this Court under 28 U.S.C. § 1603(b). R. Doc. 20150. The Court determined the tortious activity exception did not apply because the alleged tortious conduct did not occur within the United States under 28 U.S.C. § 1605(a)(5). Further, the Court found the commercial activity exception did not apply, as CNBK Group did not directly manufacture, inspect, sell, or market drywall in the United States. Because the PSC failed to present evidence sufficient to overcome the presumption that CNBK Group was entitled to independent status for purposes of the FSIA, the Court granted the motion and dismissed CNBK Group from the present litigation.

After concluding it lacked personal jurisdiction over CNBK Group, on April 21, 2017, the Court issued a 100-page opinion related to jurisdictional challenges being raised with respect to CNBK, BNBK Group, and BNBK. The Court found Taishan was an agent of BNBK under Florida and Virginia law, such that Taishan's contacts in Florida and Virginia are imputed to BNBM. This Court further found that CNBM, BNBM Group, and BNBM were part of a single business enterprise with Taishan under Louisiana law, such that Taishan's contacts in Louisiana may be imputed to them, and that the Court has jurisdiction over CNBM, BNBM Group, and BNBM in relation to Plaintiffs' claims based on Louisiana law. Also on April 21, 2017, the Court issued its Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law related to the June 9, 2015 damages hearing and adopted the PSC's damage calculations methodology related to remediation of properties.

On May 22, 2017, Defendants filed a motion pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1292(b) to certify an interlocutory appeal from this Court's April 21, 2017 jurisdiction order. Because the Court found the April 21, 2017 Order & Reasons involved a controlling question of law as to which there was substantial ground for difference of opinion, and because the Court further found that an interlocutory appeal might materially advance the ultimate termination of this MDL, on August 4, 2017, the Court certified an interlocutory appeal to the Fifth Circuit pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1292(b).

On August 1, 2017, Defendants filed a motion to dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction following the recent U.S. Supreme Court case of Bristol-Myers Squibb v. Superior Court of California ("Bristol-Myers"), 137 S. Ct. 1773 (2017). Based on Bristol-Myers, Defendants contested this Court's findings of personal jurisdiction, class certification, and agency relationship. On August 14, 2017, Defendants filed a petition for permission to appeal pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1292(b) in the Fifth Circuit, in which they argued Bristol-Myers impacted questions raised on appeal. On August 24, 2017, this Court vacated its 28 U.S.C. § 1292(b) certification order to avoid piecemeal litigations, noting its duty to address the effect of Bristol-Myers on the jurisdictional issue before certifying the matter to the Fifth Circuit. Subsequently, on November 30, 2017, the Court denied Defendants' motion to dismiss, holding Bristol-Myers did not change this Court's jurisdictional findings and class certification.

On January 2, 2018, the Court denied Defendants CNBM, BNBM Group, and BNBM's motion to vacate the default judgments against them. On March 5, 2018, the Court reinstated its order to certifying the interlocutory appeal of its April 21, 2017 order. The Court nevertheless denied Defendants' request to certify the interlocutory appeal of its opinion involving Bristol-Myers' impact on the Court's personal jurisdiction analysis, as the Supreme Court's opinion in Bristol-Myers does not address class actions and because two separate panels of the Fifth Circuit had already affirmed the Court's original personal jurisdiction analysis with respect to Taishan in 2014. This issue remains with the Fifth Circuit.

After managing the MDL for nine years, and having addressed numerous discovery disputes, dispositive motions, and other pretrial issues involving facts and legal questions common to the various cases, the Court concluded the purposes behind consolidating these related actions had been served. Accordingly, the Court began transferring cases back to their transferor courts, beginning with the Florida Amorin cases on March 12, 2018 and followed by the Virginia Amorin cases on August 20, 2018. The JPML accepted these suggestions of remand on August 6, 2018 and October 10, 2018, respectively. R. Docs. 21642, 21834. The Amorin complaint filed in Louisiana and the Louisiana claimants therein remain within the jurisdiction of this Court. The Court now turns its attention to preparing these claims for trial.

The Court provided the parties with a list of 921 Louisiana claimants in preparation for the Court's June Monthly Status Conference. R. Doc. 21339. Prior to the July Monthly Status Conference, the parties each submitted a proposed trial plan. Oral Argument on these motions was heard on Wednesday, August 15, 2018. R. Doc. 21676.

II. DISCUSSION

The CNBM and the BNBM Entity Defendants move the Court to adopt their Louisiana Amorin Trial Plan. R. Doc. 21501. They submit their plan is designed to handle two issues not yet resolved in this MDL. R. Doc. 21501 at 4. First, Defendants argue that the issue of piercing the corporate veil for the purposes of liability has not been resolved. R. Doc. 21501 at 4. Second, they assert that they retain their full rights to contest all issues, including liability and causation, in cases where defaults have not been entered against them. R. Doc. 21501.

Defendant Taishan moves the Court to adopt its proposed plan for the Louisiana Amorin claims. R. Doc. 21503. Taishan suggests the Court try the claims on an individual basis for all categories of damage. R. Doc. 21503 at 1. Taishan argues its plan is efficient and fair, and protects the due process rights of all parties. R. Doc. 21503. Taishan is particularly concerned that Plaintiffs bear the burden to prove their claims and that Taishan has a right to defense. R. Doc. 21503 at 10. Taishan further argues its plan should be limited to resolution of the Louisiana Amorin claims because the Brooke claims are in a different procedural posture. R. Doc. 21503 at 2.

The PSC responds in opposition to Defendants' motions and asks the Court to adopt its trial plan. R. Doc. 21545. The PSC argues Defendants' proposed plans serve only to prolong the disposition of the MDL. R. Doc. 21545 at 2. First, the PSC argues the Amorin claims involve limited remaining factual disputes and therefore require only limited additional discovery. R. Doc. 21545. Second, the PSC argues its plan is more efficient and will resolve all the Louisiana claims within one year. R. Doc. 21545 at 6. Third, the PSC argues Defendants have ignored several of the Court's rulings and therefore submit Defendants' proposed plans do not accurately reflect the record in this case. R. Doc. 21545 at 10, 12.

The Court has considered the parties' proposed plans and criticisms thereof and issues the following trial plan for the Louisiana cases in the Amorin class. The Court will address a trial plan for the Brooke class at a later date.

The PSC shall select twenty Louisiana cases from the Amorin class by no later than Monday, November 12, 2018. Thereafter, Defendants shall select twenty Louisiana cases from the Amorin class by no later than Wednesday, December 12, 2018. These cases will form the discovery pool from which the cases will be selected for trial at a later date. Discovery will close on Friday, April 12, 2019.

During discovery, with regard to non-remediation claims, the PSC shall advise Defendants of the elements of the non-property damages claimed and provide Defendants with any supporting documentation substantiating these claims. Counsel shall meet and confer to establish a timetable for this disclosure. If necessary, depositions shall proceed once this documentation has been exchanged.

With respect to property remediation, the PSC shall provide Defendants with an accounting identifying: the claimant owner, the square footage of drywall in the home, and proof of product I.D. Except for good cause shown, discovery shall be limited to these areas with respect to these claims.

III. CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, IT IS ORDERED that the parties adhere to the trial plan as stated herein.
